Prompt Discovery of Blaze in Fairmount House at Hyde Park, Mass., Prevented Serious Casualties Today—Dozen Big Fires in Two Days.

Chicago, Feb. 21.—(Bulletin)—One man was killed and a number of persons injured in a panic that followed the discovery of a fire this afternoon in the plant of Sturgis, Cornish and Burn, manufacturers of milk dealers' supplies. The plant occupies almost an entire block and between 200 and 300 men and women are employed in the place. Whether all on the upper floors succeeded in getting out is not known. The fire started on the first floor where a large quantity of nitric and sulphuric acid is stored.

Midway, Pa., Feb. 21.—The big Midway Hotel is burning and it is feared that all that section of the town about the hotel will go with it. The fire broke out in the hotel at 10 o'clock today in some unknown manner and in a few minutes the entire upper section of the building was a mass of flames.

The hotel is burning fiercely and several other buildings in the neighborhood are threatened. The hotel is a resort for working-men employed on the Pan Handle road and between 30 and 40 were in the hotel at the time and many narrow escapes were made. It is not yet known whether there was any loss of life, but all the occupants have not been accounted for. The hotel is a big three story frame structure.

The volunteer fire department of this place and surrounding towns are at work but the water supply is not good.

SEARCHING THE RUINS.
Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Feb. 21.—Search of the ruins of the Clifton Hotel was resumed this morning and it is expected that before the day is ended the five or six bodies still under the debris will have been recovered. L. C. Burnett of Nebraska City, one of the other injured are in a satisfactory condition.

Four bodies were recovered yesterday before night. Forty-two people were hurt.

The dead:
L. C. Burnett of Nebraska City, died today.

W. A. Mowery, Whatchee, Iowa.
E. G. Young, Minneapolis.

Two unidentified men, bodies recovered.

Five bodies still in debris.

HYDE PARK FIRE.

Hyde Park, Mass., Feb. 21.—Hyde Park had a narrow escape from a disastrous fire this morning, and only the prompt discovery of the flames in the Fairmount House, in which were sleeping nearly 90 people, prevented serious casualties. As it was there were many sensational escapes by jumping, and the firemen rescued a number of terror-stricken people. The loss was not heavy.

BRIDGEPORT BLAZE.

Bridgeport, O., Feb. 21.—Fire this morning gutted the Belmont hotel building and seriously damaged the Ogleby building adjoining. The Wheeling fire department was called to save the principal business block of the town. The guests of the hotel jumped from the second story but escaped injury. The building is a wreck.

INSANE MAN

SLEW WIFE AND CHILDREN THEN

Quadruple Tragedy Enacted Northeast of Middletown, Ind.—Man Seemed to be Improving.

Middletown, Ind., Feb. 21.—A quadruple tragedy was enacted six miles northeast of this place Friday. John M. Thornburg, 56, killed his wife, two children and himself. Thornburg, who was well-to-do, had been failing mentally for some months but his friends hesitated to place him in confinement and he continued to live at home, and he seemed to be improving. When he arose yesterday he went through the house and slew his wife and two children and then ended his own life with a bullet fired into his right temple.

ASSAULT

FULLY DESCRIBED BY SHERMAN EDWARDS.

Who Says He Was Knocked Down and
and $26.

Regarding the item published in the Advocate, on Friday concerning Sherman E. Edwards (who claimed to have been knocked down and robbed of his gold watch and chain and $26 Mr. Edwards makes the following statement: "I have been in Newark for some time as the representative of the Union Pacific Tea Company of Columbus. On Wednesday night I was in the company of two well known and respectable business men of Newark and Mr. John Saley, of Columbus. About 7 o'clock in the evening I left the Newark house where I have been stopping, and went to Kuster's with Mr. Hollister, also of the Union Pacific Tea Company. While there two Newark business men came in and we had a social game of cards, remaining until 11:15 o'clock, when we separated. Mr. Saley and the other two gentlemen going to the Warden Hotel, while I started for the Newark House. On the way I stopped at a restaurant near the canal and talked with the proprietor for about twenty minutes. I then went to the hotel and when I entered the office I noticed a man sleeping in a chair. I woke him up and endeavored to have him go to bed. He was very much under the influence of liquor. He said he would not retire until he had had another drink. I then went with him to Gus Kerns' saloon; there we had lunch. By this time he was so much under the influence of liquor that it was with great difficulty that I succeeded in getting him to the hotel. I then went to my room. There was no lock on the door. I looked over some papers and then prepared to retire. I had disrobed and was partly in bed when I heard a noise, and looking over my shoulder saw a man standing over me with a big knife in his hand. Before I could do anything the fellow caught me by the throat. I endeavored to catch hold of his wrist, and caught the blade of the knife in my hand. The fellow then struck me over the head with an instrument of some kind, knocking me down and I was unconscious for some time. The first thing that I remember after regaining consciousness was saying, 'Have they got him?' I was carried down into the office, when a physician was summoned, who dressed my wounds."

The clerk of the Newark house when seen about the matter denied that any such assault had been committed in the hotel.

THIS portrait of Washington "in his heroic military character," as the artist described it, was painted by John Trumbull in 1790 for the city of New York. It now hangs in the governor's room of the city hall, New York.

THE HANNA CAMP

Getting Uneasy Over Suspicious Attitude of the Foraker Contingent—Situation Similar to That of 1889—Tribulations of a Hanna Leader.

Columbus, Feb. 21.—Considerable uneasiness prevails in the Hanna camp in Ohio on account of the suspicious quietude of the Foraker contingent during the past few weeks. Mr. Hanna's friends are becoming alarmed. They recall the Zanesville Republican convention of 1889, prior to which everybody thought that George K. Nash, the Hanna candidate for Governor, was sure to be renominated. The Foraker people, who were then under the skillful direction of Charles L. Kurtz, in those days, occupied in the preliminary campaign an attitude very similar to that they now maintain. In a word they "laid low."

When the convention met General Asa H. Bushnell was in the far west. He was in no sense a forpal candidate for the nomination. The cards had been stacked in his favor, however, while there was no more of a ripple upon the Republican waters than there is now. Mr. Kurtz sat in his office and laid out the whole plan of campaign for Bushnell. It was on his advice that Bushnell was sent West, the more to hoodwink the Hanna crowd and convince them that they had clear sailing in the convention. Kurtz had the delegates and Hanna the confidence. The stampede of the Hanna forces on that occasion is historic. The Nash forces were utterly routed and Bushnell was nominated.

The fear is now expressed in certain circles that the anti-Hanna people are up to very much the same kind of a scheme at the present time. It is well known that Foraker has been encouraging a multitude of candidates before the coming Republican convention. He and his friends were responsible for the announcement of Senator Harding of Marion. They have assured Colonel Nevins that they would make very excellent gubernatorial material. They have tickled Judge Douglas under the fifth rib and assured him that he is every inch an available statesman. They have smiled on Harry Baugherty and flirted with Congressman Skiles. At no time have they shown any evidence of uneasiness.

Trial of M. Humbert and His Associates in the Notorious Crawford Will Case Will Come Up For Trial in France in May.

Paris, Feb. 21.—The Humberts were today acquitted of the charge of libel brought against them by M. Cattani, the banker. When the verdict was handed down by the Judge, the large crowd, which had gathered in the court room, gave an enthusiastic cheer for Madam Humbert. The Humberts whose famous swindling scheme is well known, recently accused Cat-tau of usury. He came back at them by entering a charge of libel. The trial was finished on Thursday when the Judge announced that he would hand down his decision today. He indicated then that the verdict would be in favor of the Humberts. The trial of M. Humbert and his associates in the notorious Crawford will case will come up in May.

BRANCH LINE

To Be Built From Etna Over to Pataskala

Newark-Zanesville Route Inspected by Officials—It
Is Said That the Nashport Route
Will be Used.

W. H. Mead, Jr., a prominent resident of Pataskala, was in Newark Saturday to consult Manager J. R. Harrigan of the Buckeye Lake road, as to some details pertaining to the granting of a franchise in the corporate limits of the village, which the company seeks. Mr. Harrigan was out of the city and could not be seen by Mr. Mead, but he told the Advocate that the franchise would come up for final hearing on March 2, and would undoubtedly be granted.

The franchise is sought by the C. B. L. & N. company for the purpose of constructing a branch line from Etna west to Pataskala. It may be that from Pataskala an extension will be built northward to Jersey.

Etna will be a connecting point, and passengers will change here for Pataskala, the same as they now do at Hebron for Buckeye Lake.

Zanesville, O., Feb. 21.—An inspection party consisting of J. R. Harrington of Newark, general superintendent of the Columbus, Buckeye Lake and Newark Traction Lines; Chauncey Eldridge of Boston; Peter Dudley of Chicago; Thomas Pettigrew of Indianapolis; S. M. Savage of Newark and C. A. Alderman of Springfield, drove into the city Friday morning. They had made the trip over the proposed Appleyard route from Newark to Zanesville.

The party was shown over the ground by Mr. Harrigan. They are well known contractors and engineers and their visit here was most significant. It means that the exact route will be determined upon and work on the same commenced at once.

It could not be learned whether the Brownsville-Timber run route or the Nashport route would be chosen. They left on the noon train for Newark.

This morning it is said on very good authority that the new road will take the Nashport route paralleling the B. & O. part of the way from Newark.

DIED OF SHOCK

Caused by Screams of Girl Who Was Being Flogged by Her Father—Doctor Evans Agrees With Coroner of Columbus.

Columbus, O., Feb. 21.—Mrs. Minnie Price, 1667 North High street, died last night and Dr. Evans, reinforced by Coroner Lindsey's verdict, holds that death was due to shock resulting from the daughter of a family living with other half of the double house being whipped by her father. Mrs.

Price had on Wednesday become the mother of twins. A daughter of a family in the other part of the house had been out late and her father sat up waiting for her. When she came in he gave her a terrible flogging. Her screams and those of her mother so frightened Mrs. Price that she died during the excitement.

ACQUITTED

The trusts are not going to be hurt in the least by any of the legislation of this Congress. They will continue to do business at the old stand and the people will have no more protection from robbery than if Congress had not met at all.

The people are taxed far beyond the necessities of government, and this creates a surplus, $143,000,000 of which has been deposited in the National banks to "keep business on the move," that is, to permit its being loaned out to business men at such rates as the banks find most profitable. Senator Aldrich has introduced a bill which will extend this gracious privilege. By it not only may there be deposited in the National banks internal revenue money, but also customs receipts or other funds, and the secretary of the treasury may accept as security for such deposits State, municipal or safe. Uncle Sam taxes the people to create the big surplus and then assents to its loaning out on the security of railway bonds. Is not this promoting inflation and reckless borrowing, all to keep "business on the move" for the benefit of Wall street speculators?

There are some people who forgive the Legitimists for their annual deposit of a wreath upon the statue of Charles I., that monarch who made the fatal mistake of considering himself the whole thing, by arguing that if the figurehead reality of a king in England is to be tolerated the rightful dynasty might as well enjoy the mummery as the one with the unconnected family line. But another class cannot accept the allegorical method, so common in the exegesis of many branches of knowledge of complacently brushing aside fallacies, and agree that there is any use of an enlightened century of hearing such twaddle from the throne as "My possessions" in Alaska. The cold blooded American, habituated to dealing with actual facts, knows that Edward VII., of England, could not sign a mortgage on a strip of English ground, and thereby raise the price of a shooting jacket. Wherefore the polite recognition of the waste of words? And yet his "subjects" ridicule the pretensions of the monarch who also thought he owned from the cellar up.

EDUCATION VS. CHILDREN.

Professors Say "Higher Education" Results in Small Families.
The statement of President Eliot of Harvard that the "higher education" and "intellectual pursuits" result either in small families or no families at all, is corroborated by President Harper and members of the Chicago university, says the Philadelphia Press. President Harper said:
"There is no question but the young man should get out of college earlier than he does by at least two years. These two years ought to be made up in his elementary education. The two years he would gain in this way would enable him to accumulate money to enable him to marry earlier."
"Whether or not the college man fails to reproduce himself, man for man, is a subject that I have not given much thought to, but it is undoubtedly true that the average family of the educated man is very small."

AMUSEMENTS.

Surrounded by a strong and well balanced company of unusual excellence, magnificent and appropriate scenery, wonderful electrical effects, costumes historically correct and with an attention to the smallest detail, Porter J. White's revival of "Francesca da Rimini" has been conceded to be one of the grandest dramatic events of the season. It is in such high class work as is afforded him in the role of Pepe in "Francesca da Rimini" that Mr. White is seen at his best. It will be gratifying news to many of Mr. White's friends and admirers to know that he will be seen at the Auditorium this evening.

FIRST APPEARANCE.

The Francesca da Rimini company which appears at the Auditorium to night arrived in Newark Friday night, direct from Detroit, where they have given the production which they present tonight, a careful and painstaking rehearsal for the past five weeks.

The piece will have its first presentation tonight, with Porter J. White in the role of Paolo, the king's jester, and those who witness it will have the benefit of a first night's hearing of a piece that is to appear only in the best theatres in the country.

The dramatic ability of the company is in keeping with the scenery, costumes and electric effects, which the manager, James A. Ryan, assured the writer: this morning, were far and away the finest that have been in Newark this season. The story is one of the intensest dramatic interest, and with Porter J. White leading a company of artists the play should receive a hearty reception here.

ALL NEXT WEEK.

The Chicago Stock Company will present "Carmen" one night next week, at the Auditorium, and who is there who has not heard of this most famous play which has been made internationally popular by Patti? It is the story of a beautiful Spanish girl's passionate love with which she captures a military officer only to betray his confidence for the affections of a Toledo, who has received the distinction of Mateador; until in the last act which shows the ring of Cordova during one of their famous bull fights, a sudden climax is reached and the audience is left in wonderment. Monday is ladies' free night, with a matinee on Saturday for families.

(W)ashington as the Artists Saw Him
By WILSON MACDONALD, the Sculptor
Copyright, 1923, by Wilson Macdonald

MANY centuries will come and go, empires will rise and fall, ere humanity will cease to take an interest in the life, history and individuality of George Washington. The children of the republic will be taught his history in the textbooks of our free schools, and with patriotic pride in later years they will study the life, character and virtues of the Father of His Country in the great works and volumes written by his countrymen. As the Republic grows greater and grander the philosopher will contemplate Washington's superior abilities, his noble counsel, his prudence and wisdom. The soldier will recount the story of his military achievements and his victories over the armies of the most powerful nation in the world. The patriot will dwell with rapture on his patriotism, his genius and his invincible courage. They will tell how, when the line of the Continentals wavered at Monmouth, he seized the battlefield and bore it to the forefront of the fight and drove the best soldiers of Europe from the field.

There seems to be some doubt and difference of opinion as to who painted the first likeness of Washington from life. It is a miniature and is still in existence. Some say that it was painted in Boston by Copley, but Rembrandt Peale, who painted Washington from life, declares that the first miniature was painted by his father, Charles Willson Peale. With this opinion we are inclined to agree. Charles Willson Peale was a very remarkable man. He could do a little of everything and a great deal of a great many things. He was the first painter to execute a life size portrait of Washington. This, history informs us, was in the year 1772. Peale had just returned from Europe and was invited to Mount Vernon when Washington was forty years of age. He painted a three-quarter length portrait in the dress of a colonel of militia of the colony of Virginia. Washington wears a cocked hat and carries a gun slung over his shoulder. This portrait has been engraved very often and is familiar to all who take an interest in Washington's likeness. Peale painted a bust portrait from the three-quarter length, which came into the possession of Charles S. Ogden and is supposed to be still in his family. Peale, besides being a skilled mechanic and the most renowned portrait painter then in America, was also a soldier in the Revolutionary army and led his company in action.

In 1777, when congress was sitting in Philadelphia, it ordered the artist to paint a full length portrait of Washington. Peale was then with his company at Valley Forge. The battles of Princeton and Monmouth were both fought before the portrait was finished, and the brave artist led his company in both battles. Washington was very friendly to Charles Willson Peale and sat for him when he could spare the time. He sat for the picture which congress had ordered and took great interest in it. It is a historical composition, with Washington in full uniform, his hand resting on a cannon. The picture was finished in Philadelphia in 1781 and, as is usual in such cases, the artist and his labors were forgotten. Congress adjourned without paying for the picture, and the artist never received a cent for his work. The picture was sent to Europe for sale, but, not finding a purchaser there, was returned to this country and finally found its way to the Smithsonian Institution. Charles Willson Peale's son claimed it, and it is now in Corcoran gallery, Washington. A reproduction of the picture was sold in 1855, when the Peale museum, in Baltimore, was disposed of at auction. It was bought by Mr. H. P. McKean and is still believed to be owned by him. There are in existence several full length portraits painted by Charles Willson Peale, evidently from life. One full length portrait is now owned by the Earl of Albemarle and is in the Kestrel family of Norfolk, England.

Among the great number of portraits painted by Peale from life one is now in Nassau hall, at Princeton, N. J., one was ordered by the state of Maryland to be placed in the hall of delegates at Annapolis, and another is in the gallery of Joseph Harrison, Philadelphia.

It is well known that Governor Harrison, the great-grandfather of our late president, Benjamin Harrison, ordered Charles Willson Peale to paint a full length portrait of Washington in the year 1782 to be sent to France to assist M. Houdon after he got the order from the state of Virginia to execute a marble statue of Washington. There is no account given anywhere that would lead to the conclusion that M. Houdon used the portrait as material in carving the Richmond statue. Houdon came to this country and got all the material he desired from the person of Washington. What became of this picture that was sent

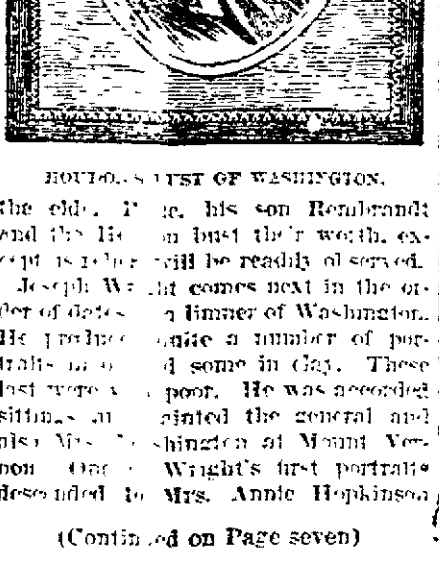

WASHINGTON, BY JOSEPH WHITE.

To France nothing is known. It is now claimed that it has been brought back to this country by some party as yet unknown.

Charles Willson Peale lived to be a very old man, and there is no question that he painted Washington from life many times and had more sittings than all other artists, and, furthermore, he made and sold a greater number of copies of his portraits than all the artists of his time. The last sitting, that Washington gave the elder Peale was in Philadelphia in 1795. James Peale, a brother, and Rembrandt Peale, the son, were present, and all three had a splendid opportunity to do their best. The portrait of the elder Peale painted at that sitting is now in the Historical society museum of New York city.

To notice the great number of miniatures painted by the elder Peale and his brother James would exceed the limits of this article, but those interested in Washington miniature likenesses are referred to the great quarto of Elizabeth Bryant Johnston, which is now very rare, but may be found in the principal libraries. It would be strange indeed if there were not in Washington's time a number of would be artists who essayed to take likenesses of the great man. Some of these have been preserved by engravings, but when these indifferent productions are compared with those of Gilbert Stuart,

REPRODUCTION OF WASHINGTON, BY GILBERT STUART.

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND
I Did Not Feel That I Could Walk

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—It is with thankfulness I write that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been of the greatest help to me. My work keeps me standing on my feet all day and the hours are long. Some months ago it didn't seem as though I could stand it. I would get so dreadfully tired and my back ached so I wanted to scream with the pain. When I got home at night I was so worn out I had to go right to bed, and I was terribly blue and downhearted. I was irregular and the flow was scanty, and I was pale and had no appetite. I told a girl friend who was taking your medicine how I felt, and she said I ought to take it too. So I got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and commenced to take it. It helped me right off. After the first few doses menstruation started and was fuller than for some time. It seemed to lift a load off me. My back stopped aching and I felt brighter than I had for months. I took three bottles in all. Now I never have an ache or pain, and I go out after work and have a good time. I am regular and strong and am thankful to you for the change."

"I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound whenever I hear of a girl suffering, for I know how hard it is to work when you feel so sick."—Miss MAMIE KEIRNS, 553 9th Ave., New York City.

Women should not fail to profit by the experiences of these women; just as surely as they were cured of the troubles enumerated in their letters, just so certainly will Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cure others who suffer from womb troubles, inflammation of the ovaries, kidney troubles, irregular and painful menstruation, nervous excitability, and nervous prostration; remember that it is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that is curing women, and don't allow any druggist to sell you anything else in its place.

—Miss Amanda T. Petterson, Box 131, Atwater, Minn., says:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I hope that you will publish this testimonial so that it may reach others and let them know about your wonderful medicine."

"Before taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was troubled with the worst kind of fainting spells. The blood would rush to my head, was very nervous and always felt tired, had dark circles around eyes. I have now taken several bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am entirely cured. I had taken doctor's medicine for many years but it did me no good."

"Please accept my thanks for this most excellent medicine which is able to restore health to suffering women."

No other female medicine in the world has received such widespread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine has such a record of cures of female troubles. Those women who refuse to accept anything else are rewarded a hundred thousand times, for they get what they want—a cure. Sold by Druggists everywhere. Refuse all substitutes. $5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

PEPSIN SYRUP CO.

Monticello, Ill.

Gentlemen.—A short time ago I procured a sample bottle of

and used it according to directions, as I have been a constant sufferer from stomach trouble, and never having found anything that would relieve me for any length of time, I assure you that your remedy has done wonders in my case, and I shall continue to use it for some time yet, desiring to effect a permanent cure. You certainly have a wonderful medicine for stomach diseases. Any way that I can assist you in your work to relieve suffering humanity, I am yours to command.

Yours very truly,

W. GAULT BROWNE, 188-190 N. Clark St., Suite 11, 7, 12, Chicago, Ill.
Mr. Browne is a dramatic author of considerable prominence. He is only one of scores of well known people who stand ready to testify as to the good qualities of Pepsin-Syrup.

GRANVILLE

TWO FUNERALS TOOK PLACE ON FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

Literary Society Meetings—Surprise Party at Mr. Bishop's Home—Theatre Party.

Granville, O. Feb. 21.—The remains of Mrs. Clark Wright who died at her home in Pittsburgh on Wednesday, arrived on Friday and were interred in Maple Grove cemetery. The deceased was a most estimable young woman. She had been in Colorado for the past two years for her health, but derived no benefit from the change in climate. Mr. Wright, the bereaved husband, has the sympathy of all this Granville friends in his great affliction.

Miss Anna Hill, of Marton, O., is visiting relatives just east of the village for a few days.

Miss Flavia Barrick, of Cleveland, is visiting at the home of her father, Mr. William Barrick on Pearl street, for a few days.

The Philomathean society of Shepards college held its regular meeting at Recital Hall on Friday evening, and the following program was presented: Music, Ruth McKibben; story, Clara McDonald; college letter, written by Sarah Drake, and read by Lillian Snow; vocal solo, "Plantation Melody," Pearl Ferguson; paper, "College Friendship," Hatlie Rogers; music, Grace Crawford.

The Euterpean Literary society held its regular meeting in the gymnasium on Friday evening, and a short program was presented.

The girls of Burton Hall at Shepards college entertained a number of their gentlemen friends with a "fool" party in Burton Hall on Friday evening, and a very enjoyable time was had by all present.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Freeman of Harrisburg, Pa., who have been visiting friends and relatives in this vicinity, for the past week, left for their home on Friday, after having had a very pleasant visit.

Miss Mayme Morgan of Bridgeport, a graduate from the Conservatory of Music at Denison in '02, is visiting friends in Burton Hall.

The funeral of the late Miss Charlotte Spellman, who died at the home of her sister, Mrs. E. M. Downer, on Broadway, so suddenly on Wednesday morning, took place from the Baptist Church on Friday afternoon, and was largely attended. The remains were interred in Maple Grove cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Bishop, who reside on Loudon street, two miles north of town, were the recipients of a delightful surprise on Friday evening. The occasion was the twentieth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Bishop, and their friends and neighbors to the number of about 25 met at their home to assist them in properly celebrating the event. As a token of the esteem in which they are held by their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Bishop were presented with a set of fine China dishes. A sumptuous supper was served during the evening.

IF YOU HAVE PAIN IN YOUR BACK

Do Not Be Deceived. You have Kidney Trouble, and You Do Not Need a Physician to Tell You So.

Pain in the back is an almost infallible sign of kidney disease; a sure sign of the condition of your urine. If you have a pain in the back, then look to the condition of your urine. It is easily done. Take a glass or tumbler and fill it with urine; after it has stood 24 hours, if it has a sediment, if it is milky or cloudy, if it is pale or discolored, stringy orropy, your kidneys and bladder are in a dangerous condition and need immediate attention, or the consequences may prove fatal. Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is the one medicine that really cures all diseases of the kidneys, liver, bladder and blood, rheumatism, dyspepsia and chronic constipation, and it will take you but a short trial to convince yourself of its wonderful curative power.

G. F. Sammer of No. 409 Toga street, Syracuse, N. Y., in a recent letter says: "I was afflicted for years with severe pains in my back and kidneys. I tried many doctors and many medicines, but got no relief. I bought a bottle of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy and it has entirely cured me."

It is for sale by all druggists in the New 50 Cent Size and the regular 1.00 size bottles—less than a cent a dose. Sample bottle—enough for trial, free by mail. Dr. David Kennedy Corporation, Rondout, N. Y.

Dr. David Kennedy's Cherry Balm best for Colds, Coughs, Consumption. 25c, 50c, $1.00.

Trial bottles free at F. D. Hall's and R. W. Smith's drug stores.

Eruptions

Dry, moist, scaly tetter, all forms of eczema or salt rheum, pimples and other cutaneous eruptions proceed from humors, either inherited, or acquired through defective digestion and assimilation.

To treat these eruptions with drying medicines is dangerous. The thing to do is to take

Hood's Sarsaparilla and Pills

Which thoroughly cleanse the blood, expelling all humors and building up the whole system. They cure

Hood's Sarsaparilla permanently cured J. G. Hines, Frank, Ill., of eczema, from which he had suffered for some time; and Miss Almira Wolter, Box 212 Algona, Wis., of pimples on her face and back and chafed skin on her body, by which she had been greatly troubled. There are more testimonials in favor of Hood's than can be published.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

Miss Mabel Martin of Lancaster, a former student at Shepards, is visiting her Chi Psi Delta sisters in King Hall.

A number of students attended "Liberty Bells" at the Auditorium in Newark on Friday evening, and were much pleased with the entertainment.

The young people of Granville are enjoying to the utmost the excellent skating.

Miss Dona Russell of Sydney, O., a student of Shepards, was called home suddenly on Friday morning by the death of her father.

LODGE NEWS

Odd Fellows.

At the meeting of Olive Branch of Odd Fellows to be held on Tuesday evening, the second degree will be conferred on three candidates, and one application for membership will be acted on.

Odd Fellowship is a great moral institution. No immoral man is eligible to membership, and those of its members who are guilty of grossly immoral habits deserve to be expelled, and would be if our laws were enforced. Much of our phenomenal prosperity and growth is due to the impression prevailing in the public mind that ours is an institution of high moral ideas and noble moral teachings. All our ceremonies are full of purest moral sentiment, and all our degrees contain sublime lessons taken from the pages of Holy Writ. Genuine Odd Fellowship is practical religion. It feeds the hungry; it clothes the naked; it relieves the distressed; it buries the dead. With pure hands must we come to such offices.—Bundle of Sticks.

The official count of the votes for officers of the State Rebekahs, shows the following named persons to have been elected: President, Miss Ethel Richy of Delaware; vice president, Mrs. Della Walton, Norwalk; Warden, Bettie Quinn, West Jefferson; Secretary, Mrs. Emma Bell, Columbus; Treasurer, Mrs. Mary Davis, Toledo.

Knights of Pythias.

At the meeting of White Cross Lodge, Knights of Pythias, of Johnston, held on Thursday evening, there was a good attendance of the members, and the Knight rank was conferred on two candidates.

Masonic.

The special communication of Center Lodge No. 326, F. & A. M., held Friday afternoon and evening, was an occasion that will not soon be forgotten by those who attended. Lodge opened at 2:30 p. m. The M. M. degree was conferred upon Fred Simpson and H. A. Bishop during the afternoon session. At 6 o'clock lodge was called to refreshments and about 80 Masons surely did enjoy the refreshments served by the ladies at the Town Hall. Cysters, coffee, pickles, cold slaw, and pie were served in such abundance that we doubt if a dish of strawberries and cream would have been enjoyed. A short session of speech making followed at the hall, and Mabel Hoover of Croton, recited "The Trial of Elmore." The craft then returned to the lodge room and the E. A. W. conferred upon one poor blind candidate, the F. C. on another, and the M. M. on Paul Simpson and Clyde Siegfried. A midnight lunch was then served in the hall, and after a cigar had been enjoyed, another E. A. was brought to light, and at 2:30 a. m. after a twelve hours session lodge closed in due form. Many expressed themselves that this was the best meeting Center Lodge ever held. —Johnstown Independent.

A special convocation of Warren Chapter No. 6, R. A. M. was held on Monday evening at which time the Master degree was conferred on two candidates.

A number of Scottish Rite Masons of this city will go to Cincinnati next week to attend the annual reunion beginning on Tuesday evening and ending on Friday evening, February 27, with an entertainment at Music Hall. This promises to be one of the largest meetings of Scottish Rite Masons ever held in Ohio. At this meeting the degrees from the fourth to the thirty-second will be conferred on a large class of candidates.

A special meeting of Acme lodge No. 551, F. & A. M., was held on Thursday night, at which time the E. A. degrees was conferred on four candidates. The E. A. degree will be conferred on three candidates.

The members of Newark lodge No. 97 F. & A. M. are ordered to meet at Masonic hall Sunday afternoon, Feb. 22, 1903, at 1 p. m. to attend the funeral of our late brother James W. Collins. A. P. Taylor, Secretary.

Royal Neighbors.

The Royal Neighbors surprised Neighbor E. C. Phenice at his home, 331 South Second street Tuesday evening. Cards and other games were the amusements of the evening, after which the hostess served a fine lunch. At the conclusion of the evening Neighbor Phenice was presented with a fine smoking set. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Sherbourne, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Graef, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Shriver, Mr. and Mrs. Mulen, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Irwin, Mr. and Mrs. Hetrick, Mr. and Mrs. Segoss, Mrs. Copelan and daughters, Miss Lottie Brown, Alice Brown, Shirley Kerr, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Kerr.

Knights of Columbus.

The Knights of Columbus of Steubenville, are making arrangements for a big time tomorrow, on which occasion a large class of candidates will be initiated. Knights from Columbus, Pittsburg, Wheeling, Dennison and this city, will be in attendance. It is expected that about twenty Knights from this city will go down.

Ben Hur.

The regular meeting of Alpha Court, No. 51, Tribe of Ben Hur, will be held on Thursday evening, Feb. 26. This will be an open meeting for the members and friends, and each member is privileged to bring a friend with him. A fine banquet will be served during the evening.

Modern Woodmen.

Cedar Camp held a very good meeting Wednesday evening considering the inclement weather and '88 responded. Three applications were balloted on and four candidates initiated.

The prize committee reported a great number of prizes donated for the membership contest and it looks now as though Cedar Camp was going to continue to boom this year as it did last year. Neighbor E. E. Murphy's services have been secured to make the presentation speech of the state banner and Cedar Camp has been lucky in this. As Neighbor Murphy is a celebrated speaker. The head camp has not notified us yet as to when they will have the banner sent here from Zanesville who now holds it.

A. O. U. W.

There will be a class for initiation Monday evening "Old Billy" has arrived from Cincinnati and will be with us good and strong Monday evening. Both Columbus lodges will be over next Saturday evening and will have a class with them to be initiated by our degree team. The committee will serve an elegant lunch Monday evening.

FORGER FOILED BY A BOY.

District Messenger Was Too Shrewd For Adroit Swindler.

District No. 42 of the American District Telegraph, at 357 Fifth avenue, New York, is an important one, as wealthy persons frequently send money and articles of value by the twenty boys stationed there, says the New York World. It is not unusual for Dr. D. Parker Morgan, rector of the Church of the Heavenly Rest to telephone from his home in New York, so when such a call came the other morning the first boy in line was sent at once. It happened to be Charles Schatz.

On the front sloop of Mr. Morgan's residence and apparently just coming out of the house was a well dressed young man. He handed the messenger a fine linen envelope bearing the rector's name and address in the corner and directed to the Fifth Avenue bank. "Take this around to the bank," he said kindly, patting the little fellow's head, "and then take the money downtown to 5 Front street."

Charlie presented the letter to the bank cashier, who was sure he recognized Dr. Morgan's signature. The letter directed him to give the messenger $400, for which a check was enclosed, and send it in a letter addressed to the treasurer of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, at his place of business, 5 Front street. Charlie tells the rest of the story graphically. He said:

"I took a train down to South Ferry, and when I got there I looked around. There, getting off the same train with me, was the young fellow who gave me the note. He came up and said: 'Oh, I changed my mind and came down myself. You needn't get off the platform at all. I'll take the letter to him myself. Here's a dollar for you.' And he rubbed a bill under my nose."

"I asked him, 'Who are you?' And he said, 'Dr. Morgan, of course.'"

"I said: 'Well, sir, this letter's addressed to Mr. Decker at 5 Front street, and I won't give it to any one but him, and not to him anywhere else. That's the rule.'"

"He ast me if I knew where 5 Front street was, and I says I didn't. So he says he'll take me to it. When I got there, I found a little shanty, and he told me to come in. By that time I was fussy, and I says, 'No.' I took the letter back to Dr. Morgan's, and they said nobody there sent it. Then they sent for the bank police, and they took the money, and all said I was a good kid. The smooth guy had scattered, and they haven't found him yet."

Both Dr. Morgan and the bank officials have offered to get better education for Charles.

A HOG'S MOUTH.

The Way It Enables the Animal to Eat Hickory Nuts.

"People often wonder how it is that a hog can get all the kernel out of a hickory nut, or any other kind of nut for that matter, without swallowing any of the shell," said a man from the country, "but as a matter of fact there is nothing mysterious about the process. Mind you, hogs don't swallow any of these harder substances. They get rid of them, and then it is just as easy for them to get rid of the shell of a nut as it is for a man or a squirrel. You might think because a hog crushes the nut into small fragments that he would necessarily swallow a good portion of the hull. But he doesn't do any such thing."

"It is a conceded fact among men who know anything about the subject that the horse is the most perfectly constructed animal in the world, considering the purposes for which the horse is used and its method and habits in life. But I want to put in a good word for the hog when it comes to the thing of cracking and eating nuts without getting any of the harder substances into the stomach. The horse has very fine teeth. The back teeth particularly are finely constructed with a view of enabling the horse to crush its food well before passing it into the stomach. These heavy grinders, heavily set in the horse's jaw, are looked upon as marvels. So they are."

"But what's the matter with the teeth of the hog? What's the matter with that marvelous process by which they separate the kernel of the nut from the hull? It has occurred to me that this is no small achievement, and nature is at least entitled to some sort of tribute for her skill in making this result possible. In the first place the hog's tongue is more sensitive than would be supposed, and it can easily detect the harder from the softer substances. By some sort of process the hog is able to work the bits of a hickory nut hull over to the sides of its mouth, the tongue being used for the purpose, and here they are thrown out at the corners. Probably you have noticed that the corners of a hog's mouth are somewhat different from the corners of the mouths of other animals. The lines of the mouth do not end so pointedly, and hence it is a much easier thing for the hog to work the harder substances which he does not care to swallow out through these little openings."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

Typhoid Cure Experiment.

With the object of discovering a cure for typhoid fever a remarkable experiment is being conducted at Ann Arbor university, Michigan. Six big tanks have been constructed, with a layer of gelatin, and on these 144 square feet of the fever germs are grown at a time. These living germs are scraped off, killed and bottled up. Two ounces of them would kill 70,000 guinea pigs. The object is if possible to extract the poison from the germ bodies, feed animals with it and try to discover an antidote.

JAS. W. COLLINS

PROMINENT DRUGGIST DIED ON SATURDAY.

For Pears He Has been Engaged in Business Here—Sketch of Life.

The Funeral.

James W. Collins one of the best known of Newark's older residents, died at his home on N Second street, at 1 45 o'clock Saturday morning of uraemic poisoning.

Dr Collins had not been in the best health for probably a couple of years, and of late had been quite ill, but not confined to his bed. On Wednesday night he was seized with a fit of coughing which became more violent, and on Thursday the patient lapsed into a state of unconsciousness from which he made only a slight rally, about noon Thursday. He then became again unconscious and slept peacefully away.

James W. Collins was born of sturdy farmer parents in Belmont county, March 1, 1827, being nearly 76 years of age at the time of his death. His young manhood was spent in St Clairsville, where he conducted a drug store until 1863, when he moved to Newark. He entered the drug business and soon took a leading position in the business life of the community. In this business he afterward associated his son, Richard, retaining an active partnership interest to the present time.

The deceased was married September 6, 1858, to Miss Margery Boggs, in Belmont county. Six children were born five of whom are living. They are Richard, Wales C. and John of Newark; Paul, who lives in Washington state, and Frank of Akron. One son died in infancy. He also leaves one brother, John T. Collins, of Newark, two sisters, Mrs. Harriet Cannon of Toledo, Iowa and Mrs. Emily Cordner of Denver, Colo.

Dr. Collins was for years a member of the Second Presbyterian church. He had served on its board of trustees, and was prominent in other departments of the church's activity. He was a member of Newark Lodge No. 97, F. & A. M., Warren Chapter No. 6, R. A. M., Bayard Taylor Council of Royal Arcanum.

The funeral will take place from the late home, Sunday afternoon, Rev. L. S. Boyce conducting the services. Interment in Cedar Hill.

THE COURTS

REBUS CONTEST

Picturing Prominent New- ark Business Firms

Cash Prizes Will be Awarded the Boys and Girls

Who Solve the Rebuses and Write Not More Than 100 Word Description of Any One of the Firms Portrayed--Costs Nothing--Pictures Daily Beginning Feb. 24.

Beginning next Tuesday evening, February 24th the Advocate will publish a series of rebuses representing well known Newark firms. One rebus will appear in each issue of the paper until the series is completed and prizes will be offered for their successful solution. This feature is intended expressly for the young people of Newark and for that reason the contestants will be limited to boys and girls 15 years of age or younger. The Advocate artist has drawn a number of pictures which represent prominent Newark firms and the contest will consist not only in naming the firms represented by the pictures, but in writing a short description of the place of business which any single one of the rebuses portrays. It will cost nothing to participate in the contest and every Advocate reader will have an equal chance with every other reader provided he or she is not more than 15 years of age. Cash prizes will be awarded by three competent judges who will be named by the publishers of this paper later. To illustrate just what the proposition is an example is here given:

Gnu - Ark Board of Trade

This drawing represents the Newark Board of Trade, an institution to which the city of Newark owes much. The drawing shows a gnu, an ark, a board, the word "of" and picture of two men engaged in the act of making a trade. Thus in the pictures which are to follow from day to day, beginning Tuesday, the names of business firms of Newark will be shown.

Those who compete in the contest are required to fill in a blank with the solution and name of the contestant and to send it by mail or otherwise to the Rebus Editor of the Advocate.

Solutions are not to be sent in separately but ten at a time. In other words coupons are to be clipped from the Advocate each day for ten days and mailed or sent to this office together with a 100 word description of the store or place of business of any single one of the firms illustrated during that period of ten days. Only one written description of not more than 100 words is required and upon the merits of that description and the correct solution of the rebuses the award of prizes will be made.

The description may be less than 100 words, but must not exceed 100 words.

To the boy or girl fifteen years of age or under who sends in the first ten rebuses correctly solved with best 100 word description of any one of the firms illustrated in the ten rebuses, the Advocate will give a prize of $5 in cash.

To the one whose solutions are correct and whose written 100 word description is second best, a prize of $3 will be given.

To the one whose solutions are correct and whose 100 word description is third best, in the opinion of the three judges, a prize of $2 will be given.

Remember only one written description is required and the contestant may choose any one of the ten firms represented in the pictures as the subject for the 100 word description. Spelling, writing, punctuation, composition and neatness will be considered by the judges in reaching their conclusions as to the merits of the compositions.

First, the puzzles must be correctly solved. Second, the names of the contestants must appear on each blank clipped from the Advocate.

Third, no one over 15 years of age is allowed to compete.

Fourth, a 100 word (no longer) description of any single one of the firms' place of business must accompany the ten coupons.

Fifth, the rebuses properly filled out together with the 100 word description must be mailed or sent to the Advocate office not later than Saturday, March 14th at 7 p. m.

As soon thereafter as the judges can reach a decision the prizes will be awarded and checks mailed to the winners.

This contest is open to all readers of the Advocate not more than 15 years of age. The solution of the rebuses will afford the boys and girls pleasure and will be good mental exercise, while the writing of the 100 word article will train them in composition, description, orthography, grammar and in conciseness of statement. No article containing more than 100 words will be considered.

Here is an opportunity for the bright boys and girls of Newark to earn a little "pin money" and have a little fun thrown in. Watch for the pictures beginning Tuesday. Clip them out and fill in the blanks after you have decided what firm the picture represents. At any time before March 14 write 100 words about any one of the firms represented and send in your coupons with your 100 word article.

Disfiguring and Troublesome Skin Diseases Easily Banished by

Paine's Celery Compound

A Marvelous Cure After the Failures of Ten Doctors.

Skin diseases are very common with old and young and some forms are exceedingly troublesome, and cause serious disfiguration of the face and complexion. Eczema, salt rheum, scrofula, shingles, ringworm, boils, pimples, itch and a score of other disagreeable troubles result from sluggish, impure, and poisoned blood. If you truly desire to get rid of such evils, do not resort to outward treatment or applications. Common sense and the experience of your friends will at once suggest a blood purifier and system renovator like Paine's Celery Compound. This marvelous cleanser soon multiplies the number of vital red corpuscles, and fills the arteries with a health stream that produces clean, solid flesh, and firm, well braced nerves. Mrs. L. S. Bailey, West Potsdam, N. Y., writes thus:

"I had small blotches break out on my head, and in a short time my whole body was covered. The doctors called it scrofula: I have had as many as ten doctors treat me, but none seemed to help me. At night time my whole body would itch so that I would have to walk the floor nearly all night. I have taken all kinds of sarsaparilla, and used soaps and ointments without effect. I read in a paper of Paine's Celery Compound, and I could not rest until I gave it a trial. I am now on my fifth bottle and consider Paine's Celery miraculous in its effects. I am completely cured with the exception of one spot on my arm which is fast going away. I wish all who suffer to give this wonderful medicine a trial."

SERMON

AT FOURTH STREET CHURCH OF CHRIST

Preached by Evangelist Allison Friday Night on the Old, Old Story of Jesus' Love.

The Rev. Mr. Allison preached a very interesting discourse at the Church of Christ on North Fourth street last evening, to a very large audience. He took for his theme, "The Old, Old Story of Jesus and His Love." He said that Jesus Christ was the greatest character in history. Around his death and resurrection hang the destiny of our race. Attempts have been and are being made continually among those who do not comprehend Christ's mission to underrate his character and try to work him out a mere man—that is to rob him of his Godlike attributes. He proved by the word of God that Christ was Divine and that to reject him as a Divine Saviour was to jeopardize our chances for everlasting Heaven. Take Jesus Christ and the atonement out of the Bible, there would be nothing left upon which to build. It is the great central fact in the whole plan of redemption. "I am the resurrection and the life. He that believeth on me though he were dead, yet shall he live." The vicarious atonement, a personal Saviour—without it no one can ever enter Heaven. The plan of salvation as laid down by Christ is very plain, so that the wayfaring man, though a fool, may not err therein. The whole discourse impressed one as appealing to the reason as well as common sense of his hearers and no doubt will be the means of bringing many into the fold of Christ, who are now wandering away from God and Heaven.
